Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Program Service Accomplishments

Summer Camp: YES provided scholarships for 272 Richmond and West Contra Costa County low-income youth ages 8-17 to attend week-long residential summer camps, and supported 38 youth, ages 14-17, to obtain leadership positions at summer camp and in related roles. For the program period YES provided outreach, application support, translation services, financial support, transportation support, and orientation for both children and families and camp staff. The program also provided 172 youth with additional outdoor experiences via day outings known as "Camp Days" in local open spaces near to their homes during the academic year. The agency also provided the third year of the Richmond Rangers program component that brought 15 YES youth into regional parks for 24 program days with a focus on environmental education and recreation with trained naturalists and rec leaders from the East Bay Regional Park District. Through facilitated experiences in nature, the Summer Camp program supports low-income, underserved youth to gain exposure to the outdoors where they build self-confidence, develop social and leadership skills, and form new friendships with peers and positive adult role models.
